

1. All user data, including sensitive information, is stored indefinitely without an option for deletion.
2. We share user data with third parties for marketing purposes without explicit consent.
3. Employees can access customer data without any logging or monitoring for internal reviews.
4. We collect personal information such as name, email, and location without informing users about data processing purposes.
5. Users must submit a formal written request via postal mail to have their data deleted.
6. The company retains financial transaction records for 10 years in compliance with tax regulations.
7. Biometric data of employees is used for attendance tracking without a clear policy on its storage and deletion.
8. Users can download a copy of their stored personal data upon request, processed within 30 days.